

LATIN AMERICAN AND LATINX STUDIES (LALS) MINOR

West Chester University's minor in Latin American and Latinx Studies (LALS) is an interdisciplinary program that provides students with a foundation across two or more disciplines in the studies of the peoples of the region of Latin America and/or of those of Latinx heritage in the United States. The LALS prepares students for immersion in a global community and helps them develop a cultural competence. The program is articulated by faculty in the departments of Anthropology, Applied Music, English, Geography, History, Languages and Cultures, Political Science, Sociology, and Social Work, across three colleges.
